

The Chicagoland Evaluation Association Presents: “An Evening with Michael Quinn Patton”

Thursday, July 31st, 2008

6:00p.m. – 9:00p.m.

John G. Shedd Aquarium, Chicago

Admission: FREE!

The 4th edition of Utilization-Focused Evaluation by Michael Quinn Patton has just been published. Patton says, "Evaluation has changed and developed enormously in the last decade." The new edition reflects and incorporates those changes and developments. For the second event in CEA's 2008 Professional Development series, Patton will present his top ten list of major new directions in evaluation. Copies of the new book will be available for purchase at a discount. Following Dr. Patton's discussion, we will adjourn to the main floor of the Aquarium to socialize and enjoy live jazz music and the exhibits. There will be a cash bar.

CEA guests should enter through the main doors of the Aquarium (top of the stairs) and get their tickets at the information booth located just behind the main ticket area. Then proceed down the stairway to the right to the Education Center, where Dr. Patton will give his talk, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. Following his talk, Dr. Patton's will join CEA members for socializing on the main floor of the Aquauarium.

The Chicagoland Evaluation Association (CEA)

is an official local affiliate organization of the American Evaluation Association (AEA). CEA's mission is to provide a forum for professional evaluators in the Chicago area to network, exchange ideas and knowledge, and participate in professional development activities that promote excellence in the field of evaluation.
